

Záró beszámoló a Populizmus a közpolitika- és a jogalkotásban (K 129245) projekt utolsó évéről (2022. október 1. – 2023. szeptember 30.)

A kutatás utolsó évében egyrészt az eredményeinkről adtunk hírt nemzetközi konferenciákon, másrészt még néhány függőben lévő tanulmányt készítettünk el és nyújtottunk be folyóiratokhoz, illetve kiadókhöz.

Konferencia előadások:

- Gárdos-Orosz Fruzsina és Szenté Zoltán: Legal mobilization for and against liberal democracy (theoretical considerations and related insights from Hungary). Populism, Non-State Actors, and Legal Mobilization in Europe, European University Institute, Firenze, 2023. március 21-24.
- Gárdos-Orosz Fruzsina: Fundamental Law and constitutional "Illiberalism" in Hungary. Constitutional intolerance: How European states engage intolerance through constitutional repertoires, Oxfordi Egyetem, 2023. április 11-14.
- Boda Zsolt: Conceptualising populism in policy making. International Public Policy Association General Conference, Toronto, 2023 június 24-30.
- Szikra Dorottya: Populist Governance and Policies During the COVID-19 Pandemic. Annual Conference of the Council for European Studies, University of Reykjavik, 2023. július 27-29.
- Boda Zsolt: Discursive governance and populist policy making in Hungary: the case of EU sanctions against Russia. The 27th Annual Conference of the Central European Political Science Association, Dubrovnik, 2023. szeptember 27-29.

Folyóirat cikkek:

- Boda Zsolt: "Shrinking Space: The Changing Political Opportunities of Advocacy Groups in Illiberal Governance", European Politics and Society, státusz: első körben elfogadva, revise and resubmit, második kör.
- Bartha Attila, Kopasz Mariann, Takács Judit: Discursive versus Collaborative Governance? Pandemic Policy-making in European Populist and Liberal Democracies. European Journal of Political Research, státusz: bírálat alatt.

Kötetbe tanulmány:

- Boda Zsolt: Political governance: conceptualising the governance style of illiberal populism. In: Michelle Morais de Sa e Silva and Alexandre de Ávila Gomide, eds. In the wake of illiberal populism: The policy process in democratic backsliding, Palgrave Macmillan, megjelenés alatt.

Kötet:

Boda Zsolt előkészített egy könyvtervet a Palgrave Macmillan kiadóhoz Populism in policy making címmel, amely még idén beadásra kerül.

Final report on the last year of the research project Populism in policy-making and law-making (Oct. 1 2022 – Sept 30 „023)

The last year of the project has been used for disseminating our results at international conferences, on one hand, and for submitting papers to journal and publishers, on the other.

Conference papers:

- Fruzsina Gárdos-Orosz Fruzsina and Zoltán Szenté: Legal mobilization for and against liberal democracy (theoretical considerations and related insights from Hungary). Populism, Non-State Actors, and Legal Mobilization in Europe, European University Institute, Florence, March 21-24 2023.
- Fruzsina Gárdos-Orosz: Fundamental Law and constitutional "Illiberalism" in Hungary. Constitutional intolerance: How European states engage intolerance through constitutional repertoires University of Oxford, April 11-14 2023.
- Zsolt Boda: Conceptualising populism in policy making. International Public Policy Association General Conference, Toronto, June 24-30 2023.
- Dorottya Szikra: Populist Governance and Policies During the COVID-19 Pandemic. Annual Conference of the Council for European Studies, University of Reykjavik, July 27-29 2023.
- Zsolt Boda: Discursive governance and populist policy making in Hungary: the case of EU sanctions against Russia. The 27th Annual Conference of the Central European Political Science Association, Dubrovnik, Sept. 27-29 2023.

Journal articles:

- Zsolt Boda: "Shrinking Space: The Changing Political Opportunities of Advocacy Groups in Illiberal Governance", European Politics and Society, status: revise and resubmit, under review.
- Attila Bartha, Marianna Kopasz, Judit Takács: Discursive versus Collaborative Governance? Pandemic Policy-making in European Populist and Liberal Democracies. European Journal of Political Research, status: under review.

Book chapter:

- Zsolt Boda: Political governance: conceptualising the governance style of illiberal populism. In: Michelle Morais de Sa e Silva and Alexandre de Ávila Gomide, eds. In the wake of illiberal populism: The policy process in democratic backsliding, Palgrave Macmillan, forthcoming.

Book:

Zsolt Boda elaborated a book proposal to Palgrave Macmillan with the title Populism in policy making, to be submitted soon.